

News From Craig.

—Dr. F. E. Hogan, of Bigelow, was a professional caller in Craig, last Thursday.

—Joseph Morris and his son, Charles, of Fortescue neighborhood, were in Craig, Saturday.

—Mrs. W. S. Thomson and daughter, Segus, were in Mound City, Tuesday, calling on friends.

—Henry Bringer and family, of Rulo, Neb., visited with W. S. Thomson and family, over Sunday.

—Mrs. Sam Rose returned Wednesday of last week from a visit with her parents, at Fremont, Nebraska.

—Frost Lawrence shipped into Craig, from Omaha, Friday, a car of sheep to be fed for market on his farm, east of town.

—Tom Story, of Stella, Nebraska, came over Friday to visit a few days with his brother, Matt, and to meet his old comrades of army days.

—Chas. Brooks and family, from near Rock Port, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Frank Hunt, in Craig. Mr. Brooks and Mrs. Hunt are cousins.

—About twenty of our most enthusiastic Democrats were in Omaha, last Thursday, to see and hear President Wilson. They report a very large crowd.

—Uncle Charles Perkins, after a week's visit among old neighbors and relatives in the Bethel neighborhood, returned to his home in Mound City, last Thursday.

—George Harper has advertised a sale of stock and surplus farm machinery for Friday, the 15th. The ladies of Bethel church will serve lunch that day.

—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stadler, of Durant, Oklahoma, arrived Friday to visit several days with Mr. Stadler's aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Stadler, of Craig.

—Gordon R. Smith, of the National Bank of Commerce, Kansas City, was an over night visitor with his mother, Mrs. Adah Smith, last Tuesday, returning Wednesday morning.

—Sunday was the birthday of R. M. Williams, and in commemoration of it, her children and grandchildren arranged a successful surprise. A happy day was spent at the home.

—Dallas Moore moved his family and household effects from near Wyomere, Nebraska, to Craig, last week, and is residing in the W. M. Sharp residence, north of the school ground.

—F. K. Allen enjoyed a very pleasant visit Friday with his sister, Miss Margaret Allen, of St. Joseph, and his niece, Nellie Barnes, of Kansas City. They were enroute to Tarkio, and stopped over between trains.

—Sam T. Thompson and family, of Craig, were Sunday guests of their daughter, Mrs. John C. Long, living north of town. Mr. Long ran his new Dodge car down in the morning for them, and brought them back in the evening.

—Miss Frances Price returned Saturday afternoon from Wichita, Kansas, where she has been the greater portion of the past two months, visiting her aunt, Mrs. H. I. Perrin. While away, she also made visits in Kansas City and Carrollton.

—A large delegation from Forget-Me-Not Camp, Royal Neighbors of America, were in evidence at the district convention, at Mound City, last Wednesday. The ladies from Craig exemplified the degree work and embellished it with some extra fine floor drills.

—Mrs. Della Hayden, of Chicago, is a visitor in the E. J. McCown home, south of town. Mrs. Hayden was formerly Miss Della Blase, and lived her girlhood days in the Kelso community. She has been touring the Pacific coast all summer. She will probably remain until the first of November.

—Late Wright, when he was in Craig, the early part of last week, sold to George Robbins his town property, located in the Gaskill & Cannon addition, at the intersection of Fourth Street and the county public highway. This is a very desirable property, has always been well kept and rents for a good sum.

—Mary Lucile, is the name given to the daughter born Tuesday, the 3d, to Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester L. Stokes, of St. Joseph. Mrs. Stokes, who is the daughter of Rev. John Hubbard, of Fulton, was at her father's home when the Miss arrived. "Vee" is a traveling salesman for the Jones Hat Co. and in all probabilities he is stepping high out on the road.

—There was a large attendance of the membership of the Presbyterian church Tuesday, when the new pastor, Rev. L. P. Parker, was accorded a public reception. Speeches of welcome were made, and the pastor responded happily. Preacher and his congregation enter the new period with abundant hope, and may the God of Love and hope delight to dwell with and bless them.

—We received a copy of the salutatory issue of the Fairfax Forum this week, issued by its new owners and editors, Nelson R. Crow and Harry Curry. Its clean, enthusiastic, well arranged pages is indicative of the map and ability of its owners, and with these live wires in a live town, like Fairfax, there is every evidence of a bright future for the readers of the Fairfax Forum. "We are for you, boys, hop to it."

—Friends and neighbors made a noon-day raid on the home of Mrs. Mose McCoy, Sunday. The day being her birthday. They came well provided with the necessary things for feasting. The afternoon and far into the evening was spent in conversation and songs. Such expressions on the part of one's friends go far to lift the burden of life, and encourages the soul to look upward and onward with a firm belief that life is worth the effort.

—Rev. K. T. Davis began revival meetings at Elk Dale, Thursday of last week, and is having a good audience at each meeting. The interest is growing, and the prospects for several additions to the church are favorable. The minister will not abandon his regular appointments for the several meetings he has planned, but will preach next Sunday morning at Tarkio Chapel. He will begin his revival meeting at the Craig church, the second Sunday in November.

locks that are so made that they spring closed without use of a key. Such a lock is on the front door of the Cox drug store, and on Friday morning, when John Halsey came down to open the store, he found the spring lock on guard, and all the keys on the inside of the store. It was a neat job of burglary work that G. W. Waits, the burglar, did when he was sprung the bolts at top and bottom of the pair of doors and got into the store.

—Mrs. John Conrad and daughter, Gladys, having spent the past two months in delightful visits with Mr. and Mrs. Spink, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Stokes and other friends, in and near Craig, departed Friday for their home at Vancouver, Wash., by way of Omaha, Denver, and Salt Lake City, stopping at each place for short visits.

—Mrs. Conrad was Alice Hancock, and was raised to womanhood in this community by her aunt, Mrs. Spink. Her visit was a pleasure to those who knew her in her former days in Craig.

—The chairman and disappointed of our local Democrats regarding the political meeting, last Monday, has expressed a sentiment in favor of holding a big political meeting at Craig, by local managers, and make an effort to secure the presence of William J. Bryan. It is said that Mr. Bryan has expressed his willingness to come to Craig on former occasions, and that he may be easily induced to make a speech here before the election. The sentiment is growing and many local Democrats have endorsed the idea, and signified their willingness to contribute freely to the purpose.

—Charles Rugh, of Rock Island, Illinois, arrived in Craig, last Friday, to meet some of his old friends. Mr. Rugh, 25 years ago, was a citizen in this community. The friends he met were all tinged with frosts of many winters, but the visit with Van and Green Taylor, Tom Ward, Rufus Williams and others of a quarter of a century ago warmed the heart of the old fellow, and he lived over again the full days of his early manhood, when he used to boast of not employing a man on his farm that he couldn't swallow. Mr. Rugh is a short, stumpy fellow, about four feet tall, and still possesses agility and strength for his age.

—E. J. Kellogg was in Rock Port, Mo., on legal business, many years ago. Mr. Kellogg hung out his shingle in Rock Port, as an attorney-at-law, and built a substantial practice and made many warm friends in Rock Port. On this occasion, after attending to the legal business, he took advantage of leisure time to look up some of his old time friends, and but two were left, all the others, and they were many, had passed over the mystic waters and had moved to other parts. A feeling of loneliness and sadness took possession of him as he recalled his old time friends, one by one, in Rock Port. Rock Port is a different Rock Port now to Mr. Kellogg. While as thrifty and enterprising, there is lacking the hospitality and cheer of welcome of former days for the fellow of long ago.

—Sunday afternoon, October 8th, 1916, 35 friends of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Cunningham gathered at their home in the Bethel neighborhood, and gave them a surprise and miscellaneous shower. Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham have a host of friends who wish them prosperity, happiness and smooth sailing over the matrimonial seas. They were married in Rock City, Sunday, October 1, by Rev. Cooley. They received many handsome and useful presents. Mr. Cunningham is counted with the progressive young farmers in this section. He is surrounded with many admiring friends, who have been drawn to him by his manly conduct and energetic life. The bride was Miss Pearl Halsey, a charming and accomplished young lady. None wish him and his charming bride any less than a complete voyage and a safe anchorage in the haven of success.

—The Rally Day exercises at the Methodist church, last Sunday, was successful in every way. Several of the classes had been working to secure money for the purchase of needed articles in the church and school. At this time the Young People's Wesley class presented to the church two oak plush line collection plates, and the Willing Workers, a class of ten little girls, presented a handsome aluminum individual communion service. The report indicates renewed life and activity for the future. A basket of flowers was presented to P. B. Horn, as the oldest member, 70 years, and a basket of flowers was given to Karl Tull Davis, the youngest member, four months. The pastor, Rev. K. T. Davis, preached two excellent sermons to large audiences.

—Many of our citizens, both Democratic and Republican, were sadly disappointed last Monday by the big rally that had been advertised for Craig by the Democratic campaign committee. Our Democrats were asked to finance the expense, and that some of a list of thirteen orators of national reputation would deliver the words. It was intimated that Speaker Clark or Senator Ollie James, and certainly our own James A. Reed would grace the platform with their presence. Not a single one of the thirteen named on the big bill put in his appearance, and the day was only saved from being a fizzle by the presence of Congressman Heflin, of Alabama, who certainly was a fine orator, and on this occasion made a wonderful speech; but we were expecting Reed or James, and although Heflin may have been successful to either or both the two gentlemen named, or he may out-class all the thirteen on the big bill, he could not take the place of Reed or James. When a man's appetite has been whetted for ham and eggs, ice cream and cake, he they over so good, will not suffice. The blame is with the state campaign committee and none other.

GOOD-ENOUGH.

Rival Church Gets Minister.
Maitland, Mo., Oct. 9.—The Rev. W. H. Frame, who came here a year ago to take the pastorate of the United Brethren church, has proved such a leader in all civic as well as church affairs of Maitland that the official board of the Christian church has obtained his services rather than permit his transfer to the United Brethren church, at Polo, Mo., to which he was assigned by the state conference at Raymore. He delivered his first sermon to his new congregation yesterday. When Reverend Frame came here from Denver, Colo., he found himself pastor of a church which had been closed for a year for lack of attendance and financial support. During his short pastorate he built up his circuit until it was one of the strongest in the county. The result was that when his transfer was made by the United Brethren conference, he was invited by the Christian church to become its pastor. He accepted the offer.—St. Joseph News-Press.

We congratulate the Christian church of our sister, and also congratulate Brother Frame on his remaining in the Maitland field, for which he has done so much in the religious and civic fields.

A Big Sale.

Winfield Gossett, of Forbes, accompanied by his brother, Blucher, of Andrew county, were agreeable callers at this office, Tuesday. The latter has been named as the administrator of the estate of his brother, William, who died September 23, and he announces a sale of personal property for Monday, October 23. It will be one of the largest sales of the year. See the advertisement elsewhere in this issue.

Died.

Mrs. Henrietta Yarnell, aged 74 years, sister of Mrs. Mary Maple and aunt of Postmaster Hugh Harsla, died at her home in Branson, Mo., Saturday, September 23, 1916. Mrs. Yarnell spent the winter of 1914-15 with her sister and nephew in this city. She leaves one brother, three sisters, three children and several grandchildren, her husband having died several years ago. She was the daughter of James Smith, an early day preacher in Holt county.

Some Tree.

Will Klinepeter and wife, who recently returned from different points in Pennsylvania, where they visited the old home, relatives and friends, give us the following account of a cherry tree (or rather Will told us) that is growing in the yard of his uncle, Joshua (Dick) Tritt, at Huntedale, Pennsylvania. It is a tame cherry tree of the black sweet variety, and at five feet from the ground measures 11 feet and 8 inches in circumference, and at the last 10 feet and 9 inches in circumference, and one of the limbs of this tree measured five feet in circumference. This certainly is a huge tree, and especially for the tame cherry.

From the Rio Grande.

McAllen, Texas, October 9, 1916.
Editors The Sentinel:—Just received The Sentinel today, and it looked better than any daily I've seen since coming here.
It is surprising how many of the old folks have dropped off since I left.
Noticed with interest your article on our trip, and was sorry you could not write the rest of the trip. That trip from Laredo down the "Silver Rio Grande" was one to be remembered. We traveled hour after hour and didn't seem to get anywhere, because all the country looked alike. Must have crossed fifty rivers and creeks, and never a bridge, and to make matters worse, the ox-carts used in these hills are all wide tread and our car would not track. Will say for the Mexicans that they gave us more road than our white brothers, meeting or passing; they gave us all the road there was.

There are almost 14,000 troops at McAllen. Cornelius Vanderbilt is Colonel of Scouts. This troop is composed of the boys of New York's "four hundred," as is also the 12th regiment. These are all New York troops here and are a well-behaved lot. General Funston came in yesterday, and reviewed the troops this morning. When a mail train comes in the mail is loaded in a big dray and is always heaved high above the sides. It goes out the same way. There is a special express train run every evening and stuff is unloaded by the wagon loads. This town is sure full of "go," and the crowds are something awful. I would like to see Charley Kooch turned loose on this bunch of soldiers with something to sell. When pay day comes, they sure spend their money.

The oranges, lemons and grapefruit have begun to ripen now, and I see some are being brought to market. Went out and got some paper-shelled oranges today. They are fully four times the size of the kind we bought in Missouri, and can be cracked with the fingers. This grove had 22 acres in it.

It is certainly wonderful the great number of things that grow here. The winter vegetable planting is in full swing now.

This letter is not confidential like the one Henry Richards received from Texas last summer. You can do as you please with it.

By the way, our entire trip registered 1466 miles, and never a wrench on the machine, nor any tire trouble after you left us.

Wishing you the best of everything, I remain,

Very truly,
H. K. HASNESS.

O. H. S. Notes.

The girls of the Teacher-Training class are getting some experience in teaching as well as the theory. They are working out problems of the mind and education through play by playing the games and building and houses themselves. Miss Hazel Patterson taught the 5th grade, Tuesday afternoon, as Miss Kennedy was absent on account of sickness. The substitute work is to be done this year by the members of the Teacher-Training classes.

The boys' basketball team defeated the Corning team by a score of 21 to 16. This was one of the fastest games ever played on the new court, and considering that this was the first game of the season, the boys gave promise of a first-class team.

The girls' team is to play the annual game with Savannah, at that place, next Saturday. The return game will be played some time soon. Don't forget that library book! The library is coming nicely.

Dangerously Injured.

George Patterson is now lying in a precarious condition at the home of his brother, William Henry, at Mound City, as the result of his team running away.

The accident occurred Sunday last, October 8. Mr. Patterson was accompanied by his son, Newton, and the team of mules became frightened and unmanageable, near the George Glick place, in the Blair neighborhood, throwing both parties out of the vehicle, breaking several ribs for Mr. Patterson, and injuring him quite severely internally. Senator Glick and others rendered immediate assistance, and took the injured man to the home of his brother, where medical attention was given him. He is badly injured, but was doing as well as could be expected.

DAIRY WISDOM.

- Fine cornmeal for the skim-milk calf is a good substitute for the more expensive oilmeal.
- Have your heifers from the good milkers.
- The practice of selling all the calves is what hurts the dairy business.
- Test and test and in a short time all the nonpaying cows will be missing.
- One of the necessities of a stable is a good thermometer.

THE PRODUCTION OF SANITARY MILK

In circular 61, issued by the Massachusetts state board of agriculture, Charles North suggests the grading of milk as a substitute for dairy inspection, says Hoard's Dairyman. In other words, his plan is to determine whether or not milk is sanitary by the conditions under which it is produced. Of course, in order to have milk of low bacterial content it is necessary for the farmers and dairymen to adopt sanitary methods, but expensive equipment is not a necessity for such production.

The plan suggested in the above mentioned circular is to grade the milk according to the number of bacteria it contains and to pay a small bonus or premium above the market price for milk of the best grade.

The following quotation illustrates how this plan worked out in one of the eastern dairy districts:

"At Oxford, Pa., this milk producing system already has been established. Oxford is a very large milk shipping station to which ninety-eight dairy farmers take their milk for shipment to Philadelphia. It was not possible immediately to transform such a large group of farmers into clean milk producers. They were therefore divided into two classes, sixty-three of the producers going to one door in the shipping station, called the Grade A department, and the rest of the producers bringing their milk to another part of the building, called the Grade B department.

It is next to impossible to produce clean milk under the conditions here depicted. A foul barnyard keeps the cows and adds in a constant state of filth, more or less of which is bound to fall in the pail during the process of milking. The barnyard pictured is hardly disappearing, but too many are still evident in some communities.

"The stimulus of the bacterial tests and the bonus acted with such force on these producers that in a short time all of them graduated into the Grade A department. The records of individual farmers taken from the laboratory books show in a remarkable manner the reduction of bacteria from many millions under the old methods down to a thousand and even less than a thousand as a result of the adoption of new methods."

Dr. North suggests the following precautions to be observed in the production of sanitary milk:

- Use small mouthed, covered milking pails.
- Keep the cow's udder clean.
- Milk with dry hands.
- Sterilize pails and cans and all other utensils with an abundance of boiling water.
- Beware of milk strainers. Use only cheesecloth, washed and boiled before each use.
- Beware of open coolers. Cool night's milk, winter and summer, by placing cans in tanks of cold water, ice water or running water preferred.
- Beware of wooden paddles or stirring rods. Use only metal stirring rods scalded before using.

Air Spaces in Barn Walls.

The walls of the cow barn on the Hoard's Dairyman farm are constructed as follows: Two by four studding are set sixteen inches apart at the outer edge of sill, and to this the clapboards are nailed. The inside of the studding is lined with heavy building paper, and over this a 2 by 2 strip is nailed. Then another layer of building paper is put on, and on this another series of 2 by 2 strips is nailed, which is also covered with building paper. The inside of the building is then sheathed with shiplap, and we have three dead air spaces that give warmth and help to make the ventilation system give more efficient service.
